More than acquaintance-- genuine friend.
More than a teacher--
    maker of men.
More than advisor-- counselor wise.
More than co-worker--
    true brotherhood ties.
More than a preacher-- faithful in walk.
More than a diplomat-- truthful in talk.
More than a leader--
    for following, shod.
More than a President-- servant of God.

Dr. Herman A. Hoyt

A busy man has time for a good laugh.

Behind a successful man there is often an efficient secretary. Mrs. Derr fills that position very capably.

ACTIVITY

The fall retreat introduces an

The morning of September 22 dawned clear and chilly as seminary students, wives and faculty members made their way to Camp Mack near Milford, Ind. for the annual Fall Retreat. Having gathered in the auditorium the group heard an inspiring challenge from Prof. French. It was easy to identify with his quip, "Unaccustomed as I am to speaking in an igloo...!"

The group welcomed a breakfast of donuts and coffee following Mr. French's talk. Then came the activities. Some students and faculty members indulged in a rousing softball game. Wives cheered, inspired by Mrs. Fink's spirited yells to various and sundry players. The "Skins" and the "Shirts" clashed in a football game. Wives pitched in with their husbands in exciting volleyball games. Others enjoyed quieter activities such as rowboating and indoor games.

Students and wives listen attentively to Prof. French's challenge.

Donuts and hot coffee hit the spot on a chilly morning.

Pent-up emotions vent themselves as the "Shirts" and "Skins" battle to the finish.

exciting year in seminary.

"Yes, there's a definite gap there!"

Enjoying Indiana's beautiful autumn.

The climax of the retreat was a time of testimonies and special music in the auditorium. Incoming juniors were featured, displaying various talents from instrumental ability to magic. The retreat was made perfect by Rev. Ashman's famous chicken. Although the day was chilly, hearts were warmed by fellowship with both old and new friends.

Wives are helpmeets in many ways.

"What do you mean, Shake-n-Bake and I helped!"

Bible and Science Conference . . .

What about evolution? Really, how old IS the earth? These and other questions were debated during four days of special lectures in the latter part of September. Guest lecturer was Dr. Harold Slusher, Professor at the University of Texas at El Paso. A well informed man, Dr. Slusher provided intriguing facts supporting his view of a "youthful earth."

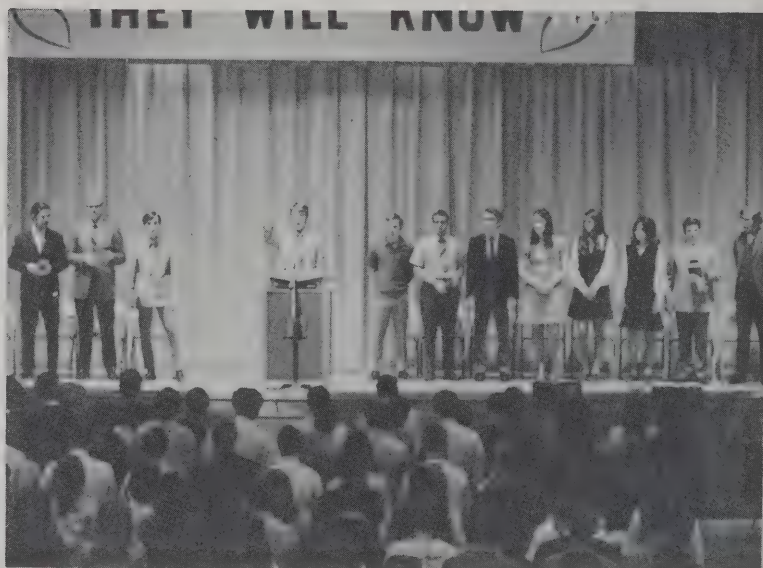

Dr. Slusher clarifies a point with Dave Southwell and Dr. Whitcomb after chapel.

Missionary Conference . . .

October 12-15 marked the dates of the annual Missionary Conference. Joint sessions were held with Grace College. Chapel sessions, prayer times, films and specialized workshops provided informative and challenging times for the students. Chapel programs dealt with such practical themes as "Prayer and the Power of God" and "God's Will for Me in Missions." The workshops revolved around different geographical fields of work. Special speakers for the week were Rev. Wayne Beaver, Foreign Missionary Society; Rev. Richard Winchell, The Evangelical Alliance Mission; and Dr. Charles Piepgrass, Unevangelized Fields Mission.

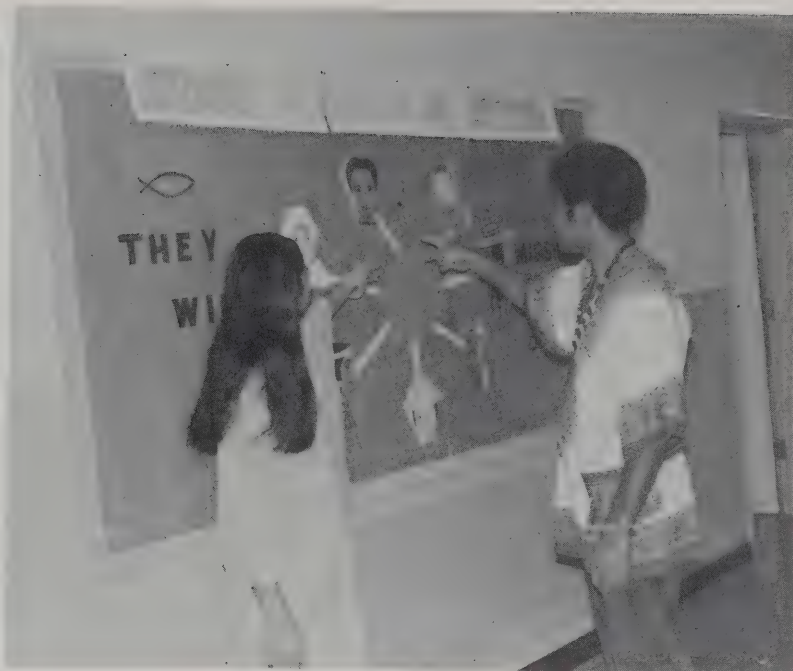

Gary Cole leads students in the conference theme song, "Pass It On."

Wayne Beaver explains "Love, Jesus Style."

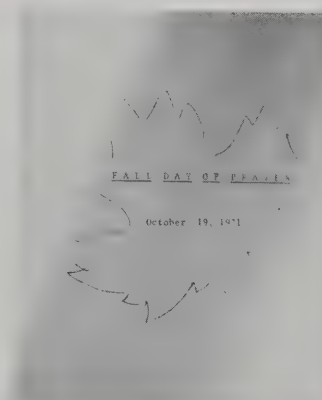

Adessa emphasizes the need for Black evangelism.

Fall Day of Prayer . . .

Access to the Throne of Grace

Each year classes are cancelled one day each semester and the entire day is dedicated to prayer. Large groups meet. Small groups meet. But all groups are involved in intercessory prayer--for the school, for the faculty, and for those things which weigh heavily on the hearts of the students. A time of singing and testimonies of the Lord's working concludes this special day.

Demons! Demons!

On November 2-5 a special Conference on Biblical Demonology was held at Grace, with the guest speaker being Dr. Merrill F. Unger, of Dallas Theological Seminary. Dr. Unger is a well-known authority on the subject of demonic activity and is the author of a very thorough book on the subject, BIBLICAL DEMONOLOGY.

Small in stature but powerful in delivery!

Grant Rice Tour

During Thanksgiving vacation the World Missions Fellowship sponsored the first Church Planting Seminary in the form of a tour of churches led by Rev. Grant Rice, missionary to mid-America and the "Paul" of the trip. The purpose of the journey was to see New Testament principles in action. The team covered 991 miles in Illinois and Wisconsin.

World Missions Fellowship serves

World Missions Fellowship is a missions-oriented group on campus whose goals are to present the challenge of the mission field to the student body and to intercede on behalf of missionaries in various parts of the world. During the fall semester WMF sponsored a project. A gift of $800 was given to the Faith Baptist Church of South Bend, which is involved in a black ministry. Pastor George Joseph said the gift would be used for new facilities.

21st Annual Grace Bible Conference

The 21st Annual Grace Bible Conference brightened the cold February days. The entire mornings for four days were devoted to special sessions with Dr. R. Laird Harris, Covenant Theological Seminary; Rev. Knute Larson, Ashland Grace Brethren Church; and Prof. Abe Penner, Grace Bible Institute. Evangelism workshops and an Alumni Breakfast and Dinner also highlighted the week. The Conference provided a time for students to re-evaluate their personal relationship with Jesus Christ and His claims on their lives.

Both his life and his messages radiated Rev. Larson's joy in the Lord.

Professor Penner pauses for moments of quiet reflection before entering the pulpit.

Dr. Harris reminds students to consider God's servant Job.

Music enriches our education . . .

Professor Jerry Franks, of Grace College, provided a very enlightening program on the proper use of sacred music and the harmful effects of music mis-used.

Bob McGehee displayed exceptional talent on the accordion.

The Men's Chorus of the junior class repeatedly stirred hearts and gave seminarians another outlet for expressing their love for God.

Grace College students add a special note of praise to the chapel program.

Gordon manipulates a marimba quite well--four "hands" at a time!

Larry and Gene combine their voices to glorify the Savior.

March was highlighted by a series of sessions on the life and work of a pastor. Dr. Howard Sugden was the guest speaker. His messages included such topics as "A Portrait of Paul," "Convictions of a Pastor," and "The Battles of a Pastor."

Dr. Sugden consults Dr. Hoyt before chapel convenes.

Spring brings profitable conferences

Alan and Dr. Getz enjoy an informal chat.

Phil Taylor leads an interesting workshop on the use of audio-visual equipment in the church.

L. TO R. Student Council members are (FRONT ROW) M. Rockafellow, Activities Director; B. Quick, Treas.; J. Teevan, Pres.; R. Smith, Chap.; P. Teran, WMF Chair.; (BACK ROW) J. Willett, Sen. Class Pres.; D. Miller, Jr. Class Pres.; G. Firebaugh, V. Pres.; and B. Youngmark, Mid. Class Pres.

The Homiletics Lab is well equipped with audio-visual helps.

The Student Council serves Grace students in many ways by promoting better seminary life, dealing with student problems and aiding student-faculty relationships. During the spring semester the Council sponsored a project to buy needed books for the library and additional equipment for the Homiletics Lab. The seminary will benefit greatly from the project.

Steve follows in his Bible while listening to a sermon on tape.

Students serve as they study.

Each of these men pastors a church while attending seminary.

Christian service is a vital part of a student's life at Grace. To avoid the developing of spiritual "sponges," serving must complement learning. The men assume positions as pastors, youth and music ministers, teachers, and aid in other unique types of service, such as work with drug addicts. Students retain more successfully those truths which they give out.

Eager anticipation shows on the faces of those waiting their turn on the sidelines.

Sports keep men in good shape

Bodily exercise does profit SOME, according to Paul! Therefore, an intramural sports program is incorporated into student life at Grace. Basketball was the featured sport this year. The accessibility of Grace College students provides constant competition.

Larry DeMoss goes for a lay-up, and it's going to be good!

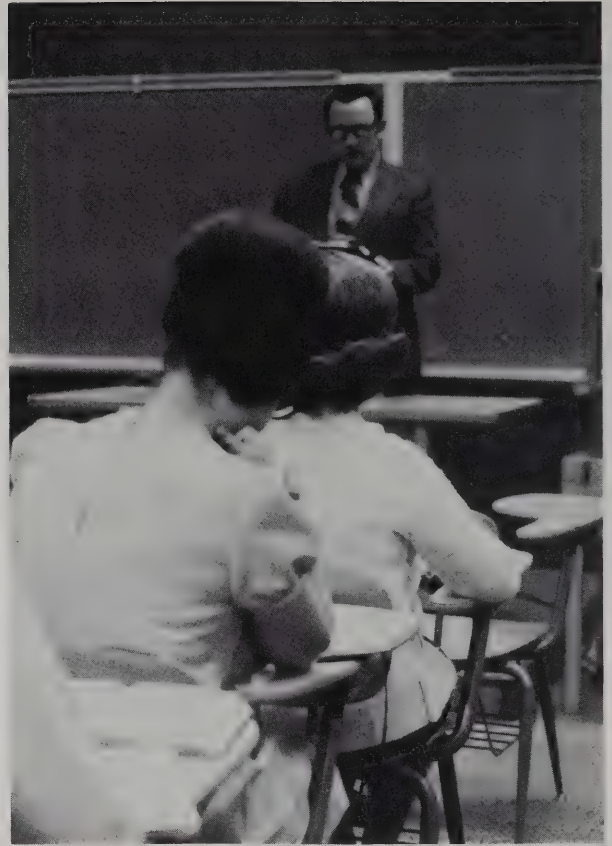

Okay, seminary guys, got to it!

"Seminary Wives"

Seminary Wives Fellowship provides a time of Bible study, practical training and friendship - for the ladies only! This year Prof. French taught the Bible study and the training period emphasized missions. Activities culminated in a graduation exercise.

Prof. French has a way of making the Scriptures "live."

"Seminary Wives" provides an opportunity to meet other women who are "putting hubby through."

The "Grace" Staff

Dr. Charles R. Smith, Advisor

A delicious meal by candlelight introduced a delightful evening.

Master of Ceremonies Bill Youngmark, President of the Middler Class, kept the pace moving.

Spring banquet — 1972 social climax

Joe Schloegel greets the guest speaker and his wife, Rev. and Mrs. George Slavin.

The spring banquet, held at the Lantern in Fort Wayne, was perhaps one of the most enjoyable occasions of the 1971-72 school year. Roars of laughter accompanied Mr. Franks' trumpet personification; and serious soul-searching, Rev. Slavin's challenging message.

Rev. Slavin and Dr. Kent chuckle as Mr. Franks imitates Dr. Fink.
